

Brought to you by Successfulfather.com

Law of Attraction Lesson- Attracting Love

All right. You rarely will hear anyone who has written about the law of attraction tell you anything to do with love and the law of attraction. Mostly ALL you will hear is about how you can attract money and cars and homes and things like that. However, the law of attraction is PERFECT for attracting love.

And I have to tell you, it can yield much greater rewards than manifesting money can. I mean, we all know that money by itself doesn't produce happiness. You want love in your life as well. This is when you will be able to say that your life truly is a SUCCESS.

Why don't people talk about the law of attraction and love more often?

My only guess can be that it does not "sell" as many books and programs. I want you to live a complete lifestyle though. That is the whole reason why I like to teach about the law of attraction.

Attracting love is EASY when you know how. You follow many of the same steps as you would with anything else. Having a clear and precise aim is key. You don't want to just say that you want to attract love, as many people wind up attracting an "unhealthy" situation.

Copyright © 2009 by Bryan Appleton. All Rights Reserved.

Think about what you want to feel and experience. Know whether or not you want to attract a serious relationship or something else. And if you already are in a relationship, maybe you would like to make it better. Or you might want to attract the love of friends and family members.

In short, you want to attract the feeling of BEING loved. And you can.

[Click Here To Learn How You Can "Conquer Love" With
The Law of Attraction](#)